Tribal Council Candidate Statement

Justin Krossman
Miluk Coos Enrolled Member #0439
Descendant of Mary Adamec

Heritage and Family

I am a proud Miluk Coos tribal member and a descendant of Mary Adamec. My life is rooted in our community as the husband of Cheyanne Krossman and the father of Blake, Layne, Kaelin, and Chad. My commitment to the Tribal Council is driven by a simple goal: ensuring that the prosperity we build today is protected for future generations.

A Proven Track Record in Tribal Business

Our Tribe's future depends on diversifying our economy beyond gaming. I have spent my career proving that we can compete and win in the federal and private sectors:

Federal Contracting Expertise: In 2015, I launched Blue Earth Services and Technologies Comlink under the Tribe's Section 17 Corporation and secured SBA 8(a) Certification, opening doors to exclusive federal contracts that allow our Tribe to build wealth independently.

Practical Entrepreneurship: As the founder of First Call Technology and Construction LLC, I built a self-sustaining business serving local education systems. I understand the "nuts and bolts" of workforce development, payroll, and project management from the ground up.

Certifications & Education: I am certified in Native American GAP Cost Accounting and Shipleys Federal Proposal Writing And Management. I don't just "support" business growth; I have technical knowledge to oversee business growth and ensure accountability.

My Vision for CTCLUSI

If elected, I will focus on moving our Tribe from a position of "stability" to one of "strategic growth." My priorities include:

Economic Diversification: Utilizing our Section 17 status to its full potential. We must create revenue streams in technology and federal contracting to insulate our programs from economic shifts.

Accessible Health & Education: Expanding health services to be inclusive of all families and ensuring that educational support reaches primary, secondary, and non-traditional students—regardless of where they live.

Cultural Preservation: Supporting family-centric programs—such as tribal campouts, hunting, and fishing events—that keep our customs alive in the hearts of our youth.

Streamlined Governance: Working with Administration to reduce the "red tape" that often slows down tribal projects, ensuring member needs are met with efficiency and respect.

Commitment to You

I have served on the CTCLUSI Business Incubator Steering Committee and coached our youth on the field. I believe in leadership that is accessible, transparent, and grounded in service. Our ancestors fought for our restoration; now, we must work to ensure our sovereignty is backed by economic strength.
I welcome your questions

Contact: krossmanjustin@hotmail.com
541-252-9899
Thank you for your consideration and your vote.

Justin Krossman

