Lakes and Rivers in the Indigenous Homelands of the Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqu and Sisualw Indians

The abundance of water and waterways is very important to the Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqua and Siuslaw People. They provided food and drinking water and a means of travel.

Identify, locate and label the lakes, rivers, creeks and oceans in the Indigenouse homelands of these Tribes.

1. What is the name of the bay and the river that is the largest waterway in the Indigenous homeland of the Coos Tribes?

2 What is the name of the river that is near the northern and eastern boundary of the Siuslaw's Indigenous homeland?

3. Identify and locate the very small creek just below the southern boundary of the Coos' Indigenous homeland. This creek was specifically identified in a legal case.

4. What is the name of the river and lake that marks the southern boundary of the Indigenous homeland of the Siuslaw Tribe and the northern boundary of the Indigenous homeland of the Lower Umpqua Tribe?

5. What is the largest waterway in the Indigenous homeland of the Siusalw?

6. Locate and label the lakes that are the boundary between the Indigenous homeland of the Lower Umpqua Tribe and the Indigenous homeland of the Coos Tribles.

7. What is the largest river in the Lower Umpqua's Indigenous homeland?

8. Locate and label the creek that is the start point of the northern boundary of the Indigenouse homelands of the Siuslaw Tribe.

9. Which river is the largerst and longest in the Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqu, and Siuslaw's Indigenous land area?

_____

10. What is the name of the body of water that borders the homelands of these Tribes on the western side?

_____