Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqua and Siuslaw Coloring Page Instructions:

The Indigenous Homelands of the Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqua and Siuslaw Indians generally follow waterways and other geographic landmarks. Each Tribe has a name that they call themselves.

The Siuslaw Tribe is the northernmost tribe in this land area. The Indigenous name for the Siuslaw is shu'yuusht'l. Their northern boundary begins at Ten Mile Creek and runs eastward to the meet the Alsea River. Their southern border is near Siltcoos River and Lake.

1. Color the Siuslaw area RED and label that area Siuslaw.
2. Write the Indigenous word for Siuslaw in that area, too.

The Lower Umpqua Tribe is located between the Siuslaw Tribe to the North and the Coos Tribes to the south. The Indigenous name for the Lower Umpqua is quuiich. Their lands are betwee Siltcoos River and Lake in the north to Tenmile Lakes in the south.

3. Color the Lower Umpqua area GREEN and label that area Lower Umpqua.
4. Write the Indigenous word for Lower Umpqua in that area, too.

The Coos Tribes are in the southernmost area of this homeland. There are two distinct language groups in this Tribal group. Their Indigenous names for the two Coos Tribes are miluk and hanis. Their northern border begins at Ten Mile Lakes and runs south to Cut Creek, which is south of Coos Bay and the Coos River. This border does not strictly follow a geographic landmark, but was established in a legal case in 1946.

The hanis speaking tribe is in the norther part of this area and the miluk speaking tribe is in the southern part of this area.

5. Color the Coos area BLUE and label that area Coos.
6. Write the two Indigenous words for the Coos in that area, too.